One of the most frustrating things about hiring a cleaning company is not knowing what you will pay until after the work is done. Some services quote low online and then add charges on the day. The Happy Housekeepers takes a different approach. Every client starts with a free estimate, with no obligation to book, so you know what to expect before a single cloth comes out.

How the Estimate Process Works

The process is simple. You call Homepage the office at (540) 774-4299 or send an email, and a representative arranges to talk with you about your home or business. They will ask about the size of the space, the number of rooms and bathrooms, how often you want service and whether there are particular areas or tasks you want prioritized. For commercial clients, that conversation includes your preferred schedule, foot traffic and any special requirements such as medical spaces.

The estimate reflects the work you actually need. A two-bedroom apartment that needs a monthly visit will be priced very differently from a large family home in Cave Spring with weekly service and regular oven cleaning. Because plans are customized, you are not paying for tasks you do not care about, and you can add specialized services such as spring and fall cleanings, wall and woodwork washing or basement cleaning whenever you want them.

Customer reviews on the company website mention good value and clear pricing, along with managers who follow up personally. That transparency is part of a long tradition. Founder Mary Jane Wszolek started the business in 1979 with a promise of satisfaction guaranteed, and the company has carried that ethic forward under the family and current President Paula Anderson. It has been BBB accredited since 1993 and holds an A+ rating.

Once you have your estimate, there is no pressure. Take the time to compare it with other options in Roanoke, check the company's BBB profile, or talk it over with your family or business partners. If you decide to go ahead, the office will schedule your first visit and call afterward to make sure you are happy. Payment is easy with Visa, Mastercard, American Express or Discover.

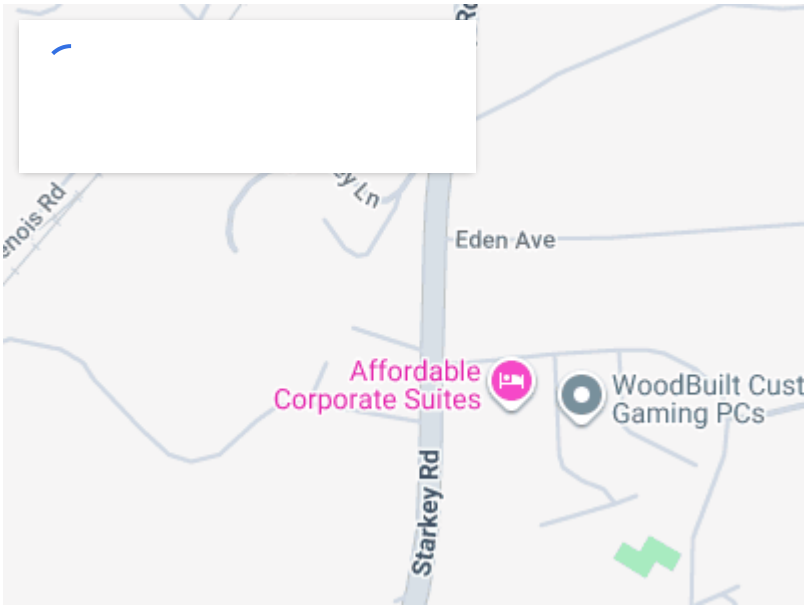

Commercial estimates usually include a walk-through, because every building is laid out differently. A representative will look at the number of offices, restrooms and break areas, the type of flooring and how many people use the space each day. That way the plan and the price reflect reality rather than a rough guess, and you will know exactly what Corporate Clean will handle on each visit before you sign anything.
