4. How a Typical Transaction Works

1. Deposit-- The user logs into the CS-gambling site, selects "Deposit with Steam," and authorises a trade deal from their Steam inventory. The site's bot receives the skins, immediately transforms them to its internal credit (typically revealed in "coins").
2. Play-- The gamer uses the credited balance to position bets. Some video games, like Crash or Roulette, display a provably-fair hash that can be validated after each round.
3. Earnings-- If the player wins, the platform credits the appropriate amount of internal coins.
4. Withdrawal-- The user starts a trade offer back to the site's bot; the bot returns the comparable skins (or, on crypto-friendly websites, transfers the corresponding quantity to the user's wallet).

Due to the fact that the whole circulation stays within the Steam environment (or a blockchain), no standard banking information is required, which both simplifies the user experience and complicates regulative enforcement.
