Military Discipline Meets Semi Truck Accident Law Texas Sgt. Andrew Piekalkiewicz served as a U.S. Army Green Beret, earning his place in Special Forces in 1987 and later deploying to Afghanistan during Operation Enduring Freedom. That training shaped how he approaches every case. Special Forces teams win through planning, preparation and attention to detail. Pike brings the same mindset to semi truck cases, investigating thoroughly, preparing early and staying ready for trial. Clients notice the difference. They get direct communication, clear plans and a lawyer who won't back down from a large trucking company and its lawyers. The Green Beret motto is De Oppresso Liber, often translated Great post to read as to free the oppressed. Pike sees his legal work as an extension of that commitment, standing up for people who've been hurt by companies with far more power and money than they have. That sense of purpose shows in how the firm treats clients and semi truck accident lawyer how it prepares cases. Every client is treated as a member of the team, and every case is approached with the same focus and determination, whatever its size.

Texas Truck Accident Lawyer | 2100 W Loop S Ste 818, Houston, TX 77027 | (832) 250-4888

Led by former Green Beret Sgt. Andrew Piekalkiewicz, the firm approaches every semi truck case with careful planning and steady preparation. That means gathering evidence early, bringing in the right experts and staying ready to go to trial if the insurer won't make a fair offer. Trucking companies notice when a firm prepares that way. Clients get honest assessments, including the weaknesses in a case, because good decisions depend on knowing the full picture. Trucking companies usually have lawyers on retainer who start working on a crash within hours. They know the federal regulations, the insurance rules and the court procedures inside out. Injured people deserve the same level of knowledge on their side, and that's what a firm focused on truck crashes is built to provide from the very first phone call. A semi truck crash can turn your life upside down in seconds. Medical appointments, missed work, car repairs and insurance calls pile up quickly. Getting the right legal help early can take much of that weight off your shoulders and let you focus on recovering. Having one experienced team handle the legal side makes a stressful time noticeably easier to manage. FAQ About

Semi Truck Accident Lawyer Can you sue if a semi truck hits you? Yes. If the driver or trucking company was careless, you can bring a claim against the driver and usually the motor carrier, and sometimes the trailer owner, shipper or maintenance company. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer reviews who's responsible for your crash and which policies apply, with no upfront fee. Call (832) 250-4888 to talk it through. How do you sue a trucking company after an accident? The process starts with a preservation demand so the carrier keeps its truck data, driver logs and camera footage. The firm then investigates, builds the claim and presents it to the insurers once your treatment picture is clear. If no fair offer comes, a lawsuit is filed and the case moves through discovery, mediation and, if needed, trial. How much are most semi truck accident settlements? There's no reliable average because every case turns on its own injuries, medical costs, lost income, fault evidence and available insurance. A soft tissue injury and a spinal cord injury lead to very different outcomes. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer gives honest, free assessments based on the facts of your crash rather than quoting online averages. Is it worth hiring a lawyer if a commercial vehicle hit me but there wasn't much damage? Often it is. Low vehicle damage doesn't always mean low injury, and neck, back and brain injuries can take days to show up. Trucking insurers also move fast to close small claims cheaply. A free consultation with Texas Truck Accident Lawyer will tell you honestly whether representation makes sense for your situation. How long do I have to file a semi truck accident lawsuit in Texas? Texas generally allows two years from the date of the crash for personal injury lawsuits and two years from the date of death for wrongful death claims. Claims involving government entities can require notice much sooner. The firm identifies every deadline in your case at the first meeting. What if the semi truck driver says the crash was my fault? Texas uses proportionate responsibility, so you can still recover if you were 50 percent or less at fault, with your award reduced by your share. Insurers often try to push blame onto the other driver. Truck data, witness interviews within 48 hours and crash reconstruction help keep fault assigned on the evidence. Who pays when an Amazon or FedEx truck causes a crash? It depends on who employed the driver and who owned the vehicle. Many Amazon deliveries are run by delivery service partners, and some FedEx routes are run by independent contractors, each with its own insurance. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer works through those arrangements to identify every source of coverage. What damages can I recover after a semi truck crash in Texas? You can seek medical expenses, future care, lost wages, lost earning capacity and property damage, along with pain, mental anguish, physical impairment and disfigurement. Where a company acted with gross negligence, exemplary damages may also be available. The firm's nurse practitioner helps make sure every injury is documented. Do I need a lawyer who focuses on truck accidents? Semi truck cases involve federal safety rules, driver qualification files, electronic logging data and several layers of insurance that ordinary car wreck claims don't. A firm that focuses on trucking knows which records to demand and how to use them. Texas Truck Accident Lawyer handles truck and commercial vehicle crashes across Texas from Houston and Dallas. How much does a semi truck accident lawyer cost? Texas Truck Accident Lawyer works on contingency, so there's no upfront payment and no attorney's fee unless the firm recovers money for you. The firm also covers investigation and expert costs while the case moves forward. The fee is explained clearly before you sign.
